QNI 256
QTC 43

Stats: QNI's were lower this month than last by 14 check-ins with QTC's down by 5.

Condx were horrid all month. There were nights where I heard nobody on the rig and had it not been for the SDR, it would have been crickets here. The only reason anyone hears me on those nights are because coronas are forming on the ends of my dipole with molten copper dripping to the ground beneath -hi.

Jim K6APW, Lee N7KC and I hit every NWN session in November. Six times we had a great turnout with 10 QNI's and one with 11! Our monthly average was 8.53 QNI's per night, down from 8.71 the month before.

The HF Propagation page Randy WB4SPB shared with us a month ago has been a nightly go-to for me to figure out how the long the band has gotten come net-time. A super useful tool!

If anyone is interested in becoming an NCS, please contact me - Patrick NG7I sbus1313@gmail.com and I'll see about getting you on the schedule. If you want to try it, just ask. The existing guys might just let you have their slot! If it turns out to be too much then we'll take it back no problems.

Best 73,
Patrick NG7I

If you're not in the Northwest, just think of NWN as "Net Without a Name" -hi
