QNI	242
QTC	36

Stats: QNI's were lower this month than last, again by 14 check-ins, with QTC's down by 7. Understandable with the holidays. I've missed a few due to being out on a call for work or getting some rest after a call. 1320 more days till I won't need to answer the phone -hi.

Condx were horrid again all month. SDR and QRO seem to be what it takes to get the job done when the band goes long. From Utah, my station sounded pretty much the same low power vs high. Looking forward to those condx again locally.

Dan N0DA and Lee N7KC hit every NWN session in November. Three times we had a great turnout with 10 QNI's and one with 11. Our monthly average was 7.81 QNI's per night, down from 8.53 the month before.

If anyone is interested in becoming an NCS, please contact me - Patrick NG7I sbus1313@gmail.com and I'll see about getting you on the schedule. If you want to try it, just ask. The existing guys might just let you have their slot! If it turns out to be too much then we'll take it back no problems.

If you're not in the Northwest, just think of NWN as "Net Without a Name" -hi

Best 73,

Patrick NG7I
